If you attended The University of Arizona as an international degree-seeking student in the past and have missed at least one semester without taking a formal leave of absence, this is the correct application for you.

If you were enrolled last semester, then withdrew from The University of Arizona and received grades of WP or WF, or did not receive a 100-percent-refund, you are eligible to register for classes next semester without being readmitted.

If you were enrolled last semester as a continuing UA student, then dropped all of your classes prior to the 100-percent-refund period, and no class registration or grades appear on your record for that semester, this is the correct application for you.

If last semester was the first semester of your enrollment at UA, and you dropped all of your classes prior to the 100-percent-refund period and no class registration or grades appear on your record for that semester, this is not the correct application for you. You need to submit a regular degree-seeking application. Go to admissions.arizona.edu/apply or call (520) 621-3237.

If your only enrollment at The University of Arizona has been as a non-degree-seeking student, a graduate student, or a continuing-education student, this is not the correct application for you. You should fill out the regular degree-seeking application. Go to admissions.arizona.edu/apply or call (520) 621-3237.

To request a disability-related accommodation in the admission process, e-mail us at admissions@arizona.edu or call us at (520) 621-3237.

Readmission Application Deadlines for 2010 Through Spring 2011

Good standing

If you left The University of Arizona in good standing (with a GPA of 2.0 or above), the deadlines to apply for readmission are:

Spring semester.....October 1
Summer I.....April 1
Summer II.....April 1
Fall semester.....June 1

To meet the admission deadline, all of your transcripts and your application must be received in the Office of Admissions by the appropriate deadline. If the deadline falls on a nonbusiness day, the deadline is extended through the next business day.

Probation or disqualification

If you left The University of Arizona on academic probation or disqualification (with a GPA less than 2.0), or if you do not know your academic status, the deadlines to apply for readmission are:

Spring semester.....September 1
Summer I & II..... March 1
Fall semester.....May 1

To meet the admission deadline, all of your transcripts and your application must be received in the Office of Admissions by the appropriate deadline. If the deadline falls on a nonbusiness day, the deadline is extended through the next business day.

Processing time

Readmission applications are processed on a first-in, first-served basis.

If you left in good standing, you can expect the process to take six to eight weeks from the time we receive your complete application. This time frame may increase during our peak processing time.

If you left on academic probation or disqualification, you can expect the process to take up to 12 weeks. It takes longer because the Office of Admissions does not make readmission decisions for students who did not leave in good academic standing. We process your application, then forward it to the college of your choice. The college will notify the Office of Admissions when a decision has been made. From there, the Office of Admissions will notify you. Please refrain from contacting the college or department directly.

Required transcripts

It is your responsibility to have official transcripts, from each institution that you have attended since leaving The University of Arizona, sent directly to the Office of Admissions at the address on the cover of this application. Your application will be reviewed only after all transcripts and other required materials have been received.

If you are currently enrolled at another institution, do not wait until you have finished course work to send a transcript. The Office of Admissions requires you to send transcripts with all but your final or current semester grades.

Example: You want to enroll in the fall semester of 2010. The Office of Admissions requires you to submit transcripts from all institutions attended through the fall semester of 2009.

If you contact a UA college dean or advisor, he or she may ask you to send your grades for the semester in progress before Undergraduate Admissions makes a readmission decision. Send your transcript(s) when requested. If you don't send the required transcripts, you will not meet the admission deadline and will not be considered for the desired semester. Once you complete the semester in progress, send your transcript(s) including grades earned and course work finished during the recently completed semester.

GPA calculations for readmission purposes

The Office of Admissions calculates your GPA from the time of your last enrollment at The University of Arizona. This recalculated GPA does not include your prior UA GPA.

Example: If your last semester at UA was fall 2007, your GPA will be calculated beginning with course work completed in the spring 2008. If you attended more than one institution, a cumulative GPA from all schools attended will be calculated.

All college-level grades are used to calculate your GPA, including any courses repeated for a better grade.

Example: If you received a grade of "F" for a course at another institution, repeated it and received a "B," both grades will be used to calculate your readmission GPA.

We do not include workshops, seminars, or certain technical courses in the calculation because these courses are not transferable.

Evaluation of transfer credit

For students in good standing, evaluation of transfer credit takes place during readmission. For those students on probation or disqualification, evaluation takes place when we submit your application to the college of your choice. The college representatives use this information to help them make a decision. Any transfer credit will show on Student Link if/when you are readmitted.

Will I be readmitted?

If you left in good standing, under most circumstances you will be readmitted by the Office of Admissions upon the authority of the college, provided you have maintained a cumulative GPA of 2.0 from all institutions attended since leaving The University of Arizona. If applying to the College of Fine Arts and you are not a Fine Arts major, you will need to complete an additional application through the CFA online admissions portal (web.cfa.arizona.edu/admissions/entrance.php).

If your cumulative GPA is below 2.0 or you now wish to be considered for a major within the College of Architecture, College of Engineering, or College of Fine Arts and you were not enrolled in that major previously, your name/file will be forwarded to the college for its recommendation. If applying to the College of Fine Arts and you are not a Fine Arts major, you will need to complete an additional application through the CFA online admissions portal (web.cfa.arizona.edu/admissions/entrance.php).

If you left on academic probation or disqualification, contact the college of your choice to obtain its criteria for readmission. All admission decisions will be made by the college. Generally, students are expected to apply after completing 24 units of transferable college course work with a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or higher.

If you have previously earned a baccalaureate degree from The University of Arizona, you may only pursue a second baccalaureate degree that differs in title and major from the first. For more information, please see the UA catalog at catalog.arizona.edu/allcats.html.

Application processing fee for international students is $75 (US currency). This fee is nontransferable and nonrefundable.
